

Looking them Over

by JACK KELLY

ONE of the experiments long used to show the power of suggestion on a person's mind has been the trick of having a doctor or a nurse tell a perfectly well man that he is sick and should stop everything and rush to see a doctor. With few exceptions, the man usually begins to imagine that he is sick.

The Nazi propaganda machine adopted this psychological attack long ago and for years has been sowing the "regimental disease" among their high standards of living and leisure time have bred men who are soft physically and mentally and quite incapable of coping with the "louper products of Nazi discipline."

This Berlin prattle never made any noticeable headway in the British Empire. Britons had whipped the daylight out of an arrogant horde of Hunns not so long ago. They knew the breed, its technique and its inherent weaknesses, so they smiled indulgently and went on about their soccer, baseball, cricket, prize-fighting, track athletics, hockey, wrestling, tennis, swimming, and more sports than the tough old Romans ever dreamed of.

Britons weren't regimented into these games and exercises like the Nazis force Germans into mass physical training. They played them because they liked them and very few ever thought about the angle of national fitness for a possible war.

However the propaganda that the ease and idleness of democracy were undermining its adherents has apparently made some progress in the United States. The efforts of Americans to be broadminded and fair and their inherent tendency to bear both sides of anything, made them particularly susceptible to Nazi propaganda.

In a recent issue of This Week, magazine, Colonel Bill Shinn, commander of New York's famous "Fighting 89th" in the last war, shows that democracy has actually worked just the opposite to the Nazi charge that it is producing bigger and tougher men with every generation.

Facts From Army Camps

Colonel Shinn reports that men now joining the U. S. Army average two inches taller and 15 pounds heavier than the men who enlisted in 1917. He also points out that the average life expectancy in the United States has been increased by 10 years since the last war. The colonel points out that the same conditions of U. S. Army work were engaged in just requiring physical strength and endurance. Any Nazi talk that a truck driver, a miner, lumberjack, steel worker, or farmer is "inferior" is due for a hell on the border.

The colonel then deals with the "white-collar" class. He says that some of the finest physical specimens of his regiment in the last war were men from desk jobs. Football and similar sports at their young years of this continent devote a big slice of their time produces college athletes who are often more like gladiators than scholars.

... A fact that has embarrassed university heads no little.

Think Colonel Shinn attacks an old bug-bear of North American life. Whenever efforts have been made to obtain shorter working hours and better pay, the objection has always been raised that more leisure time would undermine our moral principles, and thereby weaken us to all. The argument was always driven home by citing the decline and fall of the Roman Empire. Actually that founda without crumbling because its leisure and money was monopolized by a few who undertook to run the whole empire for their own selfish ends.

Sport Increases With Leisure

Shinn also says that leisure time has increased in this continent, participation in active sports has increased in direct proportion. It is now generally accepted that men and women with a comfortable income can't afford to work longer hours and are healthier and stronger physically than men and women who work long hours and don't get enough pay to feel themselves properly, let alone permit them to take part in sports.

The colonel knows the Nazi argument that material well-being has softened democracies, by pointing out that something like half the physical defects that disability young men in this continent from armed service trace back not to excessive well-being but to defects in the family income.

Read that paragraph again. It is something every person on this continent should have firmly fixed in his mind to do something about as soon as we have whittled the dictatorship until even the word "war" makes them tremble.

Democrat find something to do with the athletes of the democracy made the athletes of the dictatorship look like parades in the 1936 Olympics under Hitler's nose in Berlin.

Bleffen Plays Great Game: Two Penalties Prove Costly

Bleffen Plays Great Game: Two Penalties Prove Costly

SASKATOON, April 2.—(CP)—Saskatoon Quakers played the second and third games of the season, defeating the Edmonton Athletic Club 2-1 here Tuesday night in the fifth and deciding game of the best-of-five Western Canada Junior hockey semi-final series.

In the previous four games played at Edmonton, the Quakers won the second and third games by 3-1 and 6-5 scores while the E.A.C. took the first and fourth contests by 5-2 and 7-2 scores.

Quakers capitalized on two of the E.A.C.'s big penalties for line calls. Keith Allen accounted for both of them. His first penalty, which came late in the second period, was off a pass from Mike Shabaga while Jack Carney was in the penalty box.

His second goal, which proved to be the winner, was scored early in the third period from a power play with Mike Shabaga and Willie Schmidt while Carney was again in the penalty box.

The only Edmonton goal came early in the third period and tied the score 1-1. It was tallied by Bill Barker off a pass from Dave Larson from clear range when the Quakers' forwards and defense failed to clear the puck from their own goal.

The Saskatoon club drew the same number of penalties as the Edmonton team. They were unable to take advantage of them, mainly through Bill Barker's work in the Quakers' goal. Barker, who played three of the four games at Edmonton, probably the brightest player of the game was the star of the final game. He scored two goals and had three assists.

Another club had only one advantage in the series. The first game when the Quakers won 3-1 was played at Edmonton. The Quakers' forwards and defense failed to clear the puck from their own goal.

INDEPENDENT LEADER VOTED AN ALLOWANCE

Special Seasonal Payment Of $1,500 Approved By Legislature

Payment of $1,500 to J. H. Walker, Independent house leader, for the present session, was advocated in a resolution introduced by the legislature Tuesday by a vote of 25 to 10. Estimates passed last week for the fiscal year which commenced Tuesday and under which the 1942 session will convene, provide for a special seasonal allowance of $1,500 for the leader of the opposition.

At the 1940 session, when there were both Liberal and Conservative parties in the house, each with a leader, the house voted $2,400 for opposition special allowances. This was shared $1,200 each by the Liberal and Conservative leaders. This session is opening under estimates passed at the 1940 session. As Liberals and Conservatives are merged in the Independent group with one leader, A. E. Ferguson, $2,400 was moved a resolution that the $2,400 be not paid but that $1,500 be paid, thus actually increasing by $900 the seasonal allowance opposition leaders have been receiving.

TWO AMENDMENTS

Four to the resolution being adopted, two amendments were moved. One was made by A. V. Bourque, S.C., Late St. Anne and Government whip. This was that the opposition leaders' special allowance be reduced to $1.

This amendment was ruled out of order as "irrelevant" by Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson. Later George MacLachlan, Ind. member, moved another amendment directing a committee in the House to investigate which claimed that "a fusion of the two old parties has taken place under the leadership of one man."

He urged a vote on this amendment, "as there is now only one opposition group in the assembly." This amendment was defeated, with Angus J. Morrison, Labor, Edmonton, opposing, when he tabled it. Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, charged that Mr. MacLachlan's amendment was as frivolous as Mr. Bourque's. Most was not frivolous, interjected Mr. Bourque.

PARLIAMENTARY SYSTEM

Moving his motion Mr. Ferguson said he was not in a hurry.

Mr. Bourque, advancing resolution of the special allowance to $1, said the government was responsible in the taxpayers and to obtain value for its money. He had asked several people for one good reason why the present opposition leader should get a special grant and had even asked the man in the street and no good reason had been found. He said that he had never heard of the present opposition leader until after the last election. It had taken Independent "party" a year to get into their position as a "leader." The present opposition leader was not called upon to do a work other than that which devolved on other members. The opposition leader could not be held to

Players' Group Will Entertain For Armed Forces

Under direction of Miss Owen Meakin, a new dramatic troupe known as the Victory Players has been formed to present productions for the benefit of members of the armed forces.

The group will present productions as economically as possible and will feature plays, particularly anti-comedy, by Edmonton writers. "The Mending Lady," by Roger Hunt, will be presented in two weeks' time. The company is looking for a sponsor for its first presentation. Among Miss Meakin with the production is R. Peters, members of the troupe are Kay Ferguson, George Day, Phyllis Lamourier, Ella Pattinson, Marjorie Smith, Cliff Fidler and Roger Hunt.

I.O.D.E. Appeals For Wheelchair For Pensioner

A wheelchair in good shape is needed today by an old age pensioner in the Stony Plain district. Placed with the necessity of providing livelihood for himself and family with a small pension, the pensioner is unable to purchase a wheelchair on his own account. The I.O.D.E. in Edmonton, Tuesday made an appeal on behalf of the man. Anyone who feels they are in a position to supply such a chair should get in touch with T. Hendrick, of Stony Plain or Mrs. R. Schroter, phone 972611.

than either D. M. Duggan, Ind. Edmonton, or John J. Bowlen, Ind. Calgary, he said.

Mr. Speaker then ruled out his amendment as "frivolous." Mr. Duggan said that "I am afraid there are some members of the assembly who have not got a group of party leadership. Some may deplore what is considered a necessary part of the British parliamentary system. Under this system of government there is the Majority's total opposition, which has a leader."

PREVIOUS ALLOWANCES

"The demand of the Independent is that Mr. Walker should be our leader and it is not asking too much that the house pay him the respect he deserves."

Mr. Duggan recalled that in 1915 when the members' seasonal indemnity was $1,500 the opposition leader and speaker both received special allowance of $2,500 and the Deputy Speaker $150. In 1920 when the indemnity was raised to $2,000 there was no change for the opposition leader or speaker. In 1926 the speaker decided he would prefer not to carry on with existing arrangements in his office and leave it to the government. Accordingly his allowance was reduced to $1,500.

In B.C. the opposition leader received a salary of $2,000 in Saskatchewan $2,500 and in Manitoba $2,500.

Mr. MacLachlan said there was a fusion of more than two old parties in the Independent party. He had been a U.F.A. member. "What were you before that?" asked Mr. Ferguson. "I was a Liberal," replied Mr. MacLachlan. "What were you?" "I was a Conservative," replied Mr. Ferguson.

With little more discussion the resolution carried facing the special allowance for this session at $1,500.

ALBERTA COAL USED IN EAST BY RAILROAD

R. C. Vaughan, N.C.R.
Vice-President, Confers
With Operators

The Canadian National Railway is extending their use of Alberta coal for locomotive and steam engines. It is estimated that it is available and a substantial quantity is now used east of St. Louis, Ontario, on the north line, and recently in Port Arthur on the south line.

Mr. Vaughan has been in conference with coal operators in Edmonton for two days.

The railway, he said, is endeavoring to use western bituminous coal in its locomotives and steam engines. He said that he and his staff are working to get the coal used from the west.

He said that the railway was fully prepared to handle all the coal traffic, which was rapidly increasing.

M.L.A.'s Ask Reduction Foreign Fuel Imports: Seek Alberta Coal Mart

Adoption by a vote of 49 to five, of a resolution urging upon the Dominion government "the necessity of taking immediate steps to reduce to a minimum the importation of foreign coal to Canada" and that "Alberta coal be used to the fullest extent possible," featured the Tuesday sitting of the legislature. The resolution was moved by Gordon Taylor, M.L.A., Drumheller.

It was set forth in the resolution that Canada contains one-seventh of the world's coal. Taylor's motion also stated that the United States is producing 10,000,000 tons of coal annually, while Canada produces only 1,000,000 tons. COUNCIL SETS NEW CITY TAX AT 1940 RATE

Levy Fixed at 5 1/2 Mills — Provides Budget Of $4,692,211

Edmonton's city council Tuesday, by an affirmative vote of seven to three, set the city's millage rate for 1941. This rate will give the city a budget of $4,692,211 for the 1941 operations, and is the same as that for last year.

Mr. Sheppard now lives in retirement at Grove Park, South Essex, Essex, where he started farming when he came here in June, 1951, from London, England. He was born at Lambingale, Berks, attended Wesley school there, and started his business career in that place at the age of 10 years.

At the age of 21 years he started a business in London and built up a large business before leaving to come to western Canada.

An adherent from 1914 to 1930, he was also an executive member of the I.F.A. for 21 years, later being prominent in the Labour movement. With the inception of the Social Credit movement he was an active worker in the

Two of his seven sons lost their lives in the great war. He also has seven daughters, 36 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Four of his sons served overseas.

In the years 1917 and 1918, he organized a corps of 800 farmers to send their sons up voluntarily for active service if needed in the late days of the war. They equipped themselves at their own expense.

A member of the United Church of Christ, Mr. Storgard still is active in social and patriotic work as shooting and boating. He takes a keen interest in public affairs and attends sessions of the legislature as an observer.

COMMITTEE INVESTIGATE WORKERS' ACT

Probe Into Administration Of Compensation Measure Asked

A vote of 82 to eight in the legislature Tuesday endorsed a resolution urging the government to give "earnest consideration" to investigation of administration of the Workers' Compensation Act by a special non-member committee. The resolution was introduced by Angus J. Morrison, Labor Editor.

The eight members against the motion were Social Crediters, as follows: Hon. N. E. Taylor, minister of lands and mines, Gordon Laing, R.C., Athabasca; R. J. Wing, Stettin; W. H. Brown, R.C., St. Paul; D. L. McPherson, R.C., Peace River; W. H. Brown, R.C., St. Paul; D. L. McPherson, R.C., Peace River; W. H. Brown, R.C., St. Paul; D. L. McPherson, R.C., Peace River.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

Resolved that in the opinion of this assembly, the government should give earnest consideration to the appointment of a special committee, the members of which should be drawn from outside the legislature, to investigate the administration of the Workers' Compensation Act, and to report thereon to the next session of the legislature.

Further, that the committee should be empowered to call upon any person, firm or corporation, for any information, documents or records in its possession, custody or control, and to report thereon to the next session of the legislature.

Further, that the committee should be empowered to call upon any person, firm or corporation, for any information, documents or records in its possession, custody or control, and to report thereon to the next session of the legislature.

DECLARED IN ORDER

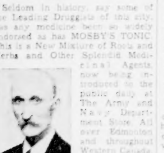

Mr. Taylor challenged the resolution at the second reading, but Mr. Morrison declared there was both need and necessity for establishing the committee, and that the motion should not be viewed from a political standpoint, but as an understanding in some quarters—without definite backing—the act should be reviewed every five years.

There were many representations.
